

Anti-Bullying and Cyber-Intimidation Programs

Educator Awareness and Prevention Program Overview

Bullying, harassment, and cyber-intimidation are real issues that can dramatically affect today's schools. More bullying cases have parents turning to the courts to hold schools more accountable. What proactive steps are you taking, and how can you mitigate your district's risk?

Through Learning for Life's online educational videos and 30-hour staff development course, educators can better teach students and parents how to recognize, address, and prevent these issues by understanding the personal, social, and legal ramifications associated with sexual harassment, bullying, and cyber-intimidation.

Over 30% of kids in the US have been bullied and over 40% have been cyber-bullied
